

Covered Diabetic Supplies for Colorado Option Plan.

See how you'll save on what matters most.

When you're managing a condition like diabetes, you need both supplies and support. That's where your Cigna HealthcareSM Colorado Option Plan comes in. With your coverage, you get diabetic supplies at $0 cost share, and your deductible is waived. What does that mean exactly? That we cover the full price so you can focus on feeling your best.

What's covered? Let's break it down.

Some of your supplies will be taken care of by your plan and some will be covered by the Durable Medical Equipment (DME) benefit.

Essential supplies covered by your pharmacy plan:

- Adhesive supplies
- Durable and disposable devices¹
- Infusion sets
- Injection aids²
- Insulin cartridges
- Ketones and protein strips
- Lancets and lancing devices
- Monitors designed for blind persons
- Skin preparation items
- Syringes and hypodermic needles
- Test strips for blood glucose monitors
- Therapeutic continuous glucose monitors³
- Visual reading and urine test strips

Essential supplies covered by the DME benefit:

- Batteries
- Continuous glucose monitoring system⁴
- Insulin infusion device
- Insulin pumps and associated appurtenances
- Non-therapeutic continuous glucose monitors
- Rental fees for pumps⁵
- Repair or maintenance for pumps⁶

A few important things to note:

To review the supplies covered under your pharmacy plan, just search the Prescription Drug List. To find a participating pharmacy, check out our Provider Directory.

If you have supplies that are covered under the DME benefit: The supplier should submit a claim to Cigna Healthcare at the claims address on the back of your ID card. Participating DME suppliers can also be found in our Provider Directory.
